ICS 300 AND ICS 400 TRAIN-THE-TRAINER COMMISSION ON FIRE PREVENTION AND CONTROL CONNECTICUT FIRE ACADEMY 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m. October 16th–20th

Background

The USFA, FEMA's Emergency Management Institute (EMI) and the National Wildfire Coordinating Group (NWCG) in cooperation with the NIMS Integration Center, have jointly developed ICS-300 and ICS-400 courses. All of the courses are based on standard learning objectives. National Fire Academy's courses are geared toward operational responders; EMI's courses are intended for other emergency management audiences; and NWCG's courses are intended for the wildland community. The differences in the courses are in the scenarios, exercises and methodology.

It is strongly recommended that operational first responders take NFA's version of ICS-300 and ICS-400, so that they will be better able to apply the principles of ICS at the proper levels at an emergency incident.

Both National Fire Academy and EMI are making available Train-the-Trainer (T-t-T) courses for these programs in each state. EMI's T-t-T deliveries started this Spring; National Fire Academy's will start in the Summer. Because of the differences in exercises and methodology, instructors trained to teach EMI's version will not automatically be allowed to teach National Fire Academy's version, and vice-versa.

The USFA has contracted with Human Technologies, Inc., to coordinate the Train-the-Trainer deliveries. The USFA will provide instructional staff and course materials, as well as master course materials, for the state.

Registration: Seating is limited to 32 students each delivery.

The U.S. Fire Administration, National Fire Academy will be providing each State Fire Training Agency with one five-day Train-the-Trainer delivery for H-465, ICS-300, Intermediate ICS for Expanding Incidents for Operational First Responders; and H-467, ICS-400, Advanced ICS for Command & General Staff, Complex Incidents, and MACS for Operational First Responders. These two courses are the NFA versions of the NIMS-required ICS-300 and ICS-400 courses. H-465 (ICS-300) is a three-day class; H-467 (ICS-400) is a two-day class.

Course Description

H-465, ICS-300, Intermediate ICS for Expanding Incidents for Operational First Responders

Objectives:

- ♦ To better prepare emergency response personnel to effectively manage large, complex incidents by utilizing the functional components of the Incidents Command System.
- ♦ To enhance the skills necessary to implement the incident management process for a Type 3 incident.
- ♦ Develop an Incident Action Plan (IAP) for a simulated Type 3 incident.
- ♦ Describe how the NIMS Command and Management components supports the management of expanding incidents.
- ♦ Describe the incident/event management process for expanding incidents and supervisions as prescribed by the Incident Command System (ICS).

Description:

This course is designed for those emergency response personnel who would function in a Command or General Staff position during a large, complex incident or event, or those personnel who are, or would likely be, part of a local or regional Incident Management Team during a major incident, whether single agency, multi-agency, or Unified Command.

Class Size: 32

Length: 3 days (24 hours)

H-467, ICS-400, Advanced ICS Command and General Staff, Complex Incidents, and MACS for Operational First Responders

Objectives:

- ♦ Explain how major incidents/events pose special management challenges.
- ♦ Describe the circumstances in which an Area Command is established.
- ♦ Describe the circumstances in which Multi-Agency Coordination Systems (MACS) are established.

Description:

This course is designed for those emergency response personnel who would function as part of an Area Command, EOC, or MAC during a large, complex incident or event. Those personnel who are or would likely be part of a local or regional Incident Management Team during a major incident, whether single agency, multi-agency or Unified Command.

Class Size: 32

Length: 2 days (16 hours)

Prerequisite:

Must have successfully completed IS-700 and IS-800 courses, as well as ICS-100 and ICS-200 equivalent.
